

Project full name:

Good financial governance – accountability and mobilisation of state revenue

Domain:

Governance

Phase I:

2015 - 2020

Implementing partner:

German International Cooperation (GIZ)

SDC contribution:

CHF 4'680'000

Total phase budget:

CHF 17'376'730

Co-funders:

- German Ministry for Cooperation (BMZ)
- European Union Delegation (EU)

For more information:

Jacquiline G. Ngoma,
Programme Officer,
Governance Domain
Tel: +255 22 266 62 20
Email:
jacquiline-gatera.ngoma@eda.admin.ch

Web:

<https://www.eda.admin.ch/daressalaam>

<https://www.giz.de>

Photo credit: GIZ

Project overview

In recent years, Tanzania's public finance system has undergone generally positive, albeit gradual development. Analyses show the pace of reform to be slow. The ambitious objectives that have been drawn up are at variance with the capacity of principal stakeholders to actually carry out public finance reforms.

A systemic change in the way public finances are structured is the declared goal of the Tanzanian Government. In order to achieve this, the state needs to provide greater accountability, but citizens too must demand it. Both of these actions need to be carried out more frequently and to a higher degree of quality. Weaknesses in external and internal financial control, a failure to implement audit recommendations, a tax base which is too narrow and a lack of mechanisms allowing taxpayers and decision-makers to enter into dialogue with one another are the main reasons for the absence of accountability in the public finance system.

This programme builds on the previous experience and successes of two completed programmes implemented by the German International Cooperation (GIZ), namely Support to the National Audit Office of Tanzania (2012-2015) and Support for Decentralised Structures (2008-2014).

Overall goal

The Good Financial Governance (GFG) project aims at strengthening the public finance system in accordance with the principles of good financial governance, specifically transparency, efficiency and accountability.

Expected outcomes

1. The National Audit Office (NAO) increasingly performs its role as a supreme audit institution efficiently;
2. Conditions for an effective internal audit function are in place;

3. Capacity for efficient and transparent management of local government revenue sources is increased;
4. Conditions for a dialogue between the public administration and citizens on transparency and accountability of public funds at local level are improved.

Approach

The programme supports the Tanzanian Government's programme of public finance reform by enhancing the level of accountability provided by the government in the area of public finances and by increasing the demand among the country's citizens for accountability. The focus is on four fields of activity:

- Strengthening external financial control: The programme strengthens in particular the individual and institutional capacity of the National Audit Office of Tanzania to plan and carry out extended audits of accounts as well as audits in specialised fields, including the drafting of audit recommendations.
- Strengthening the internal audit system: Thanks to process-based advice and dialogue with public administrations, a shared understanding of the role of the internal auditor in ministries, subordinate authorities and local authorities can be developed. Substantial support is provided to the Internal Auditor General's Division at the Ministry of Finance in the form of organisational and sectoral advice.
- Supporting local public revenue: To increase local revenue levels, ten selected local authorities are given advice on how to manage the income they receive in an efficient and transparent manner. Providing on-the-job training and coaching sessions for local experts and managers helps to improve taxpayer registration and tax collection procedures.
- Strengthening social accountability: The programme promotes the reviewing and processing of easily comprehensible information provided by the government on accountability. Civil society partners are given support and assistance in using accessible data to compile reports and analyses.

Beneficiaries:

Staff of specialised central Government organisations; President's Office - Regional Administration and Local Government, Association of Local Authorities of Tanzania, selected Members of Parliament, Institute of Tax Administration and Civil Society Organisations.

Project full name:

Good financial governance – accountability and mobilisation of state revenue

Domain:

Governance

Phase I:

2015 - 2020

Implementing partner:

German International Cooperation (GIZ)

SDC contribution:

CHF 4'680'000

Total phase budget:

CHF 17'376'730

Co-funders:

- German Ministry for Cooperation (BMZ)
- European Union Delegation (EU)

For more information:

Jacquiline G. Ngoma,
Programme Officer,
Governance Domain
Tel: +255 22 266 62 20
Email:
jacquiline-gatera.ngoma@eda.admin.ch

Web:

<https://www.eda.admin.ch/daressalaam>

<https://www.giz.de>

Photo credit: GIZ

Project overview

In recent years, Tanzania's public finance system has undergone generally positive, albeit gradual development. Analyses show the pace of reform to be slow. The ambitious objectives that have been drawn up are at variance with the capacity of principal stakeholders to actually carry out public finance reforms.

A systemic change in the way public finances are structured is the declared goal of the Tanzanian Government. In order to achieve this, the state needs to provide greater accountability, but citizens too must demand it. Both of these actions need to be carried out more frequently and to a higher degree of quality. Weaknesses in external and internal financial control, a failure to implement audit recommendations, a tax base which is too narrow and a lack of mechanisms allowing taxpayers and decision-makers to enter into dialogue with one another are the main reasons for the absence of accountability in the public finance system.

This programme builds on the previous experience and successes of two completed programmes implemented by the German International Cooperation (GIZ), namely Support to the National Audit Office of Tanzania (2012-2015) and Support for Decentralised Structures (2008-2014).

Overall goal

The Good Financial Governance (GFG) project aims at strengthening the public finance system in accordance with the principles of good financial governance, specifically transparency, efficiency and accountability.

Expected outcomes

1. The National Audit Office (NAO) increasingly performs its role as a supreme audit institution efficiently;
2. Conditions for an effective internal audit function are in place;

3. Capacity for efficient and transparent management of local government revenue sources is increased;
4. Conditions for a dialogue between the public administration and citizens on transparency and accountability of public funds at local level are improved.

Approach

The programme supports the Tanzanian Government's programme of public finance reform by enhancing the level of accountability provided by the government in the area of public finances and by increasing the demand among the country's citizens for accountability. The focus is on four fields of activity:

- Strengthening external financial control: The programme strengthens in particular the individual and institutional capacity of the National Audit Office of Tanzania to plan and carry out extended audits of accounts as well as audits in specialised fields, including the drafting of audit recommendations.
- Strengthening the internal audit system: Thanks to process-based advice and dialogue with public administrations, a shared understanding of the role of the internal auditor in ministries, subordinate authorities and local authorities can be developed. Substantial support is provided to the Internal Auditor General's Division at the Ministry of Finance in the form of organisational and sectoral advice.
- Supporting local public revenue: To increase local revenue levels, ten selected local authorities are given advice on how to manage the income they receive in an efficient and transparent manner. Providing on-the-job training and coaching sessions for local experts and managers helps to improve taxpayer registration and tax collection procedures.
- Strengthening social accountability: The programme promotes the reviewing and processing of easily comprehensible information provided by the government on accountability. Civil society partners are given support and assistance in using accessible data to compile reports and analyses.

Beneficiaries:

Staff of specialised central Government organisations; President's Office - Regional Administration and Local Government, Association of Local Authorities of Tanzania, selected Members of Parliament, Institute of Tax Administration and Civil Society Organisations.

Project full name:

Good financial governance – accountability and mobilisation of state revenue

Domain:

Governance

Phase I:

2015 - 2020

Implementing partner:

German International Cooperation (GIZ)

SDC contribution:

CHF 4'680'000

Total phase budget:

CHF 17'376'730

Co-funders:

- German Ministry for Cooperation (BMZ)
- European Union Delegation (EU)

For more information:

Jacquiline G. Ngoma,
Programme Officer,
Governance Domain
Tel: +255 22 266 62 20
Email:
jacquiline-gatera.ngoma@eda.admin.ch

Web:

<https://www.eda.admin.ch/daressalaam>

<https://www.giz.de>

Photo credit: GIZ

Project overview

In recent years, Tanzania's public finance system has undergone generally positive, albeit gradual development. Analyses show the pace of reform to be slow. The ambitious objectives that have been drawn up are at variance with the capacity of principal stakeholders to actually carry out public finance reforms.

A systemic change in the way public finances are structured is the declared goal of the Tanzanian Government. In order to achieve this, the state needs to provide greater accountability, but citizens too must demand it. Both of these actions need to be carried out more frequently and to a higher degree of quality. Weaknesses in external and internal financial control, a failure to implement audit recommendations, a tax base which is too narrow and a lack of mechanisms allowing taxpayers and decision-makers to enter into dialogue with one another are the main reasons for the absence of accountability in the public finance system.

This programme builds on the previous experience and successes of two completed programmes implemented by the German International Cooperation (GIZ), namely Support to the National Audit Office of Tanzania (2012-2015) and Support for Decentralised Structures (2008-2014).

Overall goal

The Good Financial Governance (GFG) project aims at strengthening the public finance system in accordance with the principles of good financial governance, specifically transparency, efficiency and accountability.

Expected outcomes

1. The National Audit Office (NAO) increasingly performs its role as a supreme audit institution efficiently;
2. Conditions for an effective internal audit function are in place;

3. Capacity for efficient and transparent management of local government revenue sources is increased;
4. Conditions for a dialogue between the public administration and citizens on transparency and accountability of public funds at local level are improved.

Approach

The programme supports the Tanzanian Government's programme of public finance reform by enhancing the level of accountability provided by the government in the area of public finances and by increasing the demand among the country's citizens for accountability. The focus is on four fields of activity:

- Strengthening external financial control: The programme strengthens in particular the individual and institutional capacity of the National Audit Office of Tanzania to plan and carry out extended audits of accounts as well as audits in specialised fields, including the drafting of audit recommendations.
- Strengthening the internal audit system: Thanks to process-based advice and dialogue with public administrations, a shared understanding of the role of the internal auditor in ministries, subordinate authorities and local authorities can be developed. Substantial support is provided to the Internal Auditor General's Division at the Ministry of Finance in the form of organisational and sectoral advice.
- Supporting local public revenue: To increase local revenue levels, ten selected local authorities are given advice on how to manage the income they receive in an efficient and transparent manner. Providing on-the-job training and coaching sessions for local experts and managers helps to improve taxpayer registration and tax collection procedures.
- Strengthening social accountability: The programme promotes the reviewing and processing of easily comprehensible information provided by the government on accountability. Civil society partners are given support and assistance in using accessible data to compile reports and analyses.

Beneficiaries:

Staff of specialised central Government organisations; President's Office - Regional Administration and Local Government, Association of Local Authorities of Tanzania, selected Members of Parliament, Institute of Tax Administration and Civil Society Organisations.

Project full name:

Good financial governance – accountability and mobilisation of state revenue

Domain:

Governance

Phase I:

2015 - 2020

Implementing partner:

German International Cooperation (GIZ)

SDC contribution:

CHF 4'680'000

Total phase budget:

CHF 17'376'730

Co-funders:

- German Ministry for Cooperation (BMZ)
- European Union Delegation (EU)

For more information:

Jacquiline G. Ngoma,
Programme Officer,
Governance Domain
Tel: +255 22 266 62 20
Email:
jacquiline-gatera.ngoma@eda.admin.ch

Web:

<https://www.eda.admin.ch/daressalaam>

<https://www.giz.de>

Photo credit: GIZ

Project overview

In recent years, Tanzania's public finance system has undergone generally positive, albeit gradual development. Analyses show the pace of reform to be slow. The ambitious objectives that have been drawn up are at variance with the capacity of principal stakeholders to actually carry out public finance reforms.

A systemic change in the way public finances are structured is the declared goal of the Tanzanian Government. In order to achieve this, the state needs to provide greater accountability, but citizens too must demand it. Both of these actions need to be carried out more frequently and to a higher degree of quality. Weaknesses in external and internal financial control, a failure to implement audit recommendations, a tax base which is too narrow and a lack of mechanisms allowing taxpayers and decision-makers to enter into dialogue with one another are the main reasons for the absence of accountability in the public finance system.

This programme builds on the previous experience and successes of two completed programmes implemented by the German International Cooperation (GIZ), namely Support to the National Audit Office of Tanzania (2012-2015) and Support for Decentralised Structures (2008-2014).

Overall goal

The Good Financial Governance (GFG) project aims at strengthening the public finance system in accordance with the principles of good financial governance, specifically transparency, efficiency and accountability.

Expected outcomes

1. The National Audit Office (NAO) increasingly performs its role as a supreme audit institution efficiently;
2. Conditions for an effective internal audit function are in place;

3. Capacity for efficient and transparent management of local government revenue sources is increased;
4. Conditions for a dialogue between the public administration and citizens on transparency and accountability of public funds at local level are improved.

Approach

The programme supports the Tanzanian Government's programme of public finance reform by enhancing the level of accountability provided by the government in the area of public finances and by increasing the demand among the country's citizens for accountability. The focus is on four fields of activity:

- Strengthening external financial control: The programme strengthens in particular the individual and institutional capacity of the National Audit Office of Tanzania to plan and carry out extended audits of accounts as well as audits in specialised fields, including the drafting of audit recommendations.
- Strengthening the internal audit system: Thanks to process-based advice and dialogue with public administrations, a shared understanding of the role of the internal auditor in ministries, subordinate authorities and local authorities can be developed. Substantial support is provided to the Internal Auditor General's Division at the Ministry of Finance in the form of organisational and sectoral advice.
- Supporting local public revenue: To increase local revenue levels, ten selected local authorities are given advice on how to manage the income they receive in an efficient and transparent manner. Providing on-the-job training and coaching sessions for local experts and managers helps to improve taxpayer registration and tax collection procedures.
- Strengthening social accountability: The programme promotes the reviewing and processing of easily comprehensible information provided by the government on accountability. Civil society partners are given support and assistance in using accessible data to compile reports and analyses.

Beneficiaries:

Staff of specialised central Government organisations; President's Office - Regional Administration and Local Government, Association of Local Authorities of Tanzania, selected Members of Parliament, Institute of Tax Administration and Civil Society Organisations.

Project full name:

Good financial governance – accountability and mobilisation of state revenue

Domain:

Governance

Phase I:

2015 - 2020

Implementing partner:

German International Cooperation (GIZ)

SDC contribution:

CHF 4'680'000

Total phase budget:

CHF 17'376'730

Co-funders:

- German Ministry for Cooperation (BMZ)
- European Union Delegation (EU)

For more information:

Jacquiline G. Ngoma,
Programme Officer,
Governance Domain
Tel: +255 22 266 62 20
Email:
jacquiline-gatera.ngoma@eda.admin.ch

Web:

<https://www.eda.admin.ch/daressalaam>

<https://www.giz.de>

Photo credit: GIZ

Project overview

In recent years, Tanzania's public finance system has undergone generally positive, albeit gradual development. Analyses show the pace of reform to be slow. The ambitious objectives that have been drawn up are at variance with the capacity of principal stakeholders to actually carry out public finance reforms.

A systemic change in the way public finances are structured is the declared goal of the Tanzanian Government. In order to achieve this, the state needs to provide greater accountability, but citizens too must demand it. Both of these actions need to be carried out more frequently and to a higher degree of quality. Weaknesses in external and internal financial control, a failure to implement audit recommendations, a tax base which is too narrow and a lack of mechanisms allowing taxpayers and decision-makers to enter into dialogue with one another are the main reasons for the absence of accountability in the public finance system.

This programme builds on the previous experience and successes of two completed programmes implemented by the German International Cooperation (GIZ), namely Support to the National Audit Office of Tanzania (2012-2015) and Support for Decentralised Structures (2008-2014).

Overall goal

The Good Financial Governance (GFG) project aims at strengthening the public finance system in accordance with the principles of good financial governance, specifically transparency, efficiency and accountability.

Expected outcomes

1. The National Audit Office (NAO) increasingly performs its role as a supreme audit institution efficiently;
2. Conditions for an effective internal audit function are in place;

3. Capacity for efficient and transparent management of local government revenue sources is increased;
4. Conditions for a dialogue between the public administration and citizens on transparency and accountability of public funds at local level are improved.

Approach

The programme supports the Tanzanian Government's programme of public finance reform by enhancing the level of accountability provided by the government in the area of public finances and by increasing the demand among the country's citizens for accountability. The focus is on four fields of activity:

- Strengthening external financial control: The programme strengthens in particular the individual and institutional capacity of the National Audit Office of Tanzania to plan and carry out extended audits of accounts as well as audits in specialised fields, including the drafting of audit recommendations.
- Strengthening the internal audit system: Thanks to process-based advice and dialogue with public administrations, a shared understanding of the role of the internal auditor in ministries, subordinate authorities and local authorities can be developed. Substantial support is provided to the Internal Auditor General's Division at the Ministry of Finance in the form of organisational and sectoral advice.
- Supporting local public revenue: To increase local revenue levels, ten selected local authorities are given advice on how to manage the income they receive in an efficient and transparent manner. Providing on-the-job training and coaching sessions for local experts and managers helps to improve taxpayer registration and tax collection procedures.
- Strengthening social accountability: The programme promotes the reviewing and processing of easily comprehensible information provided by the government on accountability. Civil society partners are given support and assistance in using accessible data to compile reports and analyses.

Beneficiaries:

Staff of specialised central Government organisations; President's Office - Regional Administration and Local Government, Association of Local Authorities of Tanzania, selected Members of Parliament, Institute of Tax Administration and Civil Society Organisations.

Project full name:

Good financial governance – accountability and mobilisation of state revenue

Domain:

Governance

Phase I:

2015 - 2020

Implementing partner:

German International Cooperation (GIZ)

SDC contribution:

CHF 4'680'000

Total phase budget:

CHF 17'376'730

Co-funders:

- German Ministry for Cooperation (BMZ)
- European Union Delegation (EU)

For more information:

Jacquiline G. Ngoma,
Programme Officer,
Governance Domain
Tel: +255 22 266 62 20
Email:
jacquiline-gatera.ngoma@eda.admin.ch

Web:

<https://www.eda.admin.ch/daressalaam>

<https://www.giz.de>

Photo credit: GIZ

Project overview

In recent years, Tanzania's public finance system has undergone generally positive, albeit gradual development. Analyses show the pace of reform to be slow. The ambitious objectives that have been drawn up are at variance with the capacity of principal stakeholders to actually carry out public finance reforms.

A systemic change in the way public finances are structured is the declared goal of the Tanzanian Government. In order to achieve this, the state needs to provide greater accountability, but citizens too must demand it. Both of these actions need to be carried out more frequently and to a higher degree of quality. Weaknesses in external and internal financial control, a failure to implement audit recommendations, a tax base which is too narrow and a lack of mechanisms allowing taxpayers and decision-makers to enter into dialogue with one another are the main reasons for the absence of accountability in the public finance system.

This programme builds on the previous experience and successes of two completed programmes implemented by the German International Cooperation (GIZ), namely Support to the National Audit Office of Tanzania (2012-2015) and Support for Decentralised Structures (2008-2014).

Overall goal

The Good Financial Governance (GFG) project aims at strengthening the public finance system in accordance with the principles of good financial governance, specifically transparency, efficiency and accountability.

Expected outcomes

1. The National Audit Office (NAO) increasingly performs its role as a supreme audit institution efficiently;
2. Conditions for an effective internal audit function are in place;

3. Capacity for efficient and transparent management of local government revenue sources is increased;
4. Conditions for a dialogue between the public administration and citizens on transparency and accountability of public funds at local level are improved.

Approach

The programme supports the Tanzanian Government's programme of public finance reform by enhancing the level of accountability provided by the government in the area of public finances and by increasing the demand among the country's citizens for accountability. The focus is on four fields of activity:

- Strengthening external financial control: The programme strengthens in particular the individual and institutional capacity of the National Audit Office of Tanzania to plan and carry out extended audits of accounts as well as audits in specialised fields, including the drafting of audit recommendations.
- Strengthening the internal audit system: Thanks to process-based advice and dialogue with public administrations, a shared understanding of the role of the internal auditor in ministries, subordinate authorities and local authorities can be developed. Substantial support is provided to the Internal Auditor General's Division at the Ministry of Finance in the form of organisational and sectoral advice.
- Supporting local public revenue: To increase local revenue levels, ten selected local authorities are given advice on how to manage the income they receive in an efficient and transparent manner. Providing on-the-job training and coaching sessions for local experts and managers helps to improve taxpayer registration and tax collection procedures.
- Strengthening social accountability: The programme promotes the reviewing and processing of easily comprehensible information provided by the government on accountability. Civil society partners are given support and assistance in using accessible data to compile reports and analyses.

Beneficiaries:

Staff of specialised central Government organisations; President's Office - Regional Administration and Local Government, Association of Local Authorities of Tanzania, selected Members of Parliament, Institute of Tax Administration and Civil Society Organisations.

Project full name:

Good financial governance – accountability and mobilisation of state revenue

Domain:

Governance

Phase I:

2015 - 2020

Implementing partner:

German International Cooperation (GIZ)

SDC contribution:

CHF 4'680'000

Total phase budget:

CHF 17'376'730

Co-funders:

- German Ministry for Cooperation (BMZ)
- European Union Delegation (EU)

For more information:

Jacquiline G. Ngoma,
Programme Officer,
Governance Domain
Tel: +255 22 266 62 20
Email:
jacquiline-gatera.ngoma@eda.admin.ch

Web:

<https://www.eda.admin.ch/daressalaam>

<https://www.giz.de>

Photo credit: GIZ

Project overview

In recent years, Tanzania's public finance system has undergone generally positive, albeit gradual development. Analyses show the pace of reform to be slow. The ambitious objectives that have been drawn up are at variance with the capacity of principal stakeholders to actually carry out public finance reforms.

A systemic change in the way public finances are structured is the declared goal of the Tanzanian Government. In order to achieve this, the state needs to provide greater accountability, but citizens too must demand it. Both of these actions need to be carried out more frequently and to a higher degree of quality. Weaknesses in external and internal financial control, a failure to implement audit recommendations, a tax base which is too narrow and a lack of mechanisms allowing taxpayers and decision-makers to enter into dialogue with one another are the main reasons for the absence of accountability in the public finance system.

This programme builds on the previous experience and successes of two completed programmes implemented by the German International Cooperation (GIZ), namely Support to the National Audit Office of Tanzania (2012-2015) and Support for Decentralised Structures (2008-2014).

Overall goal

The Good Financial Governance (GFG) project aims at strengthening the public finance system in accordance with the principles of good financial governance, specifically transparency, efficiency and accountability.

Expected outcomes

1. The National Audit Office (NAO) increasingly performs its role as a supreme audit institution efficiently;
2. Conditions for an effective internal audit function are in place;

3. Capacity for efficient and transparent management of local government revenue sources is increased;
4. Conditions for a dialogue between the public administration and citizens on transparency and accountability of public funds at local level are improved.

Approach

The programme supports the Tanzanian Government's programme of public finance reform by enhancing the level of accountability provided by the government in the area of public finances and by increasing the demand among the country's citizens for accountability. The focus is on four fields of activity:

- Strengthening external financial control: The programme strengthens in particular the individual and institutional capacity of the National Audit Office of Tanzania to plan and carry out extended audits of accounts as well as audits in specialised fields, including the drafting of audit recommendations.
- Strengthening the internal audit system: Thanks to process-based advice and dialogue with public administrations, a shared understanding of the role of the internal auditor in ministries, subordinate authorities and local authorities can be developed. Substantial support is provided to the Internal Auditor General's Division at the Ministry of Finance in the form of organisational and sectoral advice.
- Supporting local public revenue: To increase local revenue levels, ten selected local authorities are given advice on how to manage the income they receive in an efficient and transparent manner. Providing on-the-job training and coaching sessions for local experts and managers helps to improve taxpayer registration and tax collection procedures.
- Strengthening social accountability: The programme promotes the reviewing and processing of easily comprehensible information provided by the government on accountability. Civil society partners are given support and assistance in using accessible data to compile reports and analyses.

Beneficiaries:

Staff of specialised central Government organisations; President's Office - Regional Administration and Local Government, Association of Local Authorities of Tanzania, selected Members of Parliament, Institute of Tax Administration and Civil Society Organisations.

Project full name:

Good financial governance – accountability and mobilisation of state revenue

Domain:

Governance

Phase I:

2015 - 2020

Implementing partner:

German International Cooperation (GIZ)

SDC contribution:

CHF 4'680'000

Total phase budget:

CHF 17'376'730

Co-funders:

- German Ministry for Cooperation (BMZ)
- European Union Delegation (EU)

For more information:

Jacquiline G. Ngoma,
Programme Officer,
Governance Domain
Tel: +255 22 266 62 20
Email:
jacquiline-gatera.ngoma@eda.admin.ch

Web:

<https://www.eda.admin.ch/daressalaam>

<https://www.giz.de>

Photo credit: GIZ

Project overview

In recent years, Tanzania's public finance system has undergone generally positive, albeit gradual development. Analyses show the pace of reform to be slow. The ambitious objectives that have been drawn up are at variance with the capacity of principal stakeholders to actually carry out public finance reforms.

A systemic change in the way public finances are structured is the declared goal of the Tanzanian Government. In order to achieve this, the state needs to provide greater accountability, but citizens too must demand it. Both of these actions need to be carried out more frequently and to a higher degree of quality. Weaknesses in external and internal financial control, a failure to implement audit recommendations, a tax base which is too narrow and a lack of mechanisms allowing taxpayers and decision-makers to enter into dialogue with one another are the main reasons for the absence of accountability in the public finance system.

This programme builds on the previous experience and successes of two completed programmes implemented by the German International Cooperation (GIZ), namely Support to the National Audit Office of Tanzania (2012-2015) and Support for Decentralised Structures (2008-2014).

Overall goal

The Good Financial Governance (GFG) project aims at strengthening the public finance system in accordance with the principles of good financial governance, specifically transparency, efficiency and accountability.

Expected outcomes

1. The National Audit Office (NAO) increasingly performs its role as a supreme audit institution efficiently;
2. Conditions for an effective internal audit function are in place;

3. Capacity for efficient and transparent management of local government revenue sources is increased;
4. Conditions for a dialogue between the public administration and citizens on transparency and accountability of public funds at local level are improved.

Approach

The programme supports the Tanzanian Government's programme of public finance reform by enhancing the level of accountability provided by the government in the area of public finances and by increasing the demand among the country's citizens for accountability. The focus is on four fields of activity:

- Strengthening external financial control: The programme strengthens in particular the individual and institutional capacity of the National Audit Office of Tanzania to plan and carry out extended audits of accounts as well as audits in specialised fields, including the drafting of audit recommendations.
- Strengthening the internal audit system: Thanks to process-based advice and dialogue with public administrations, a shared understanding of the role of the internal auditor in ministries, subordinate authorities and local authorities can be developed. Substantial support is provided to the Internal Auditor General's Division at the Ministry of Finance in the form of organisational and sectoral advice.
- Supporting local public revenue: To increase local revenue levels, ten selected local authorities are given advice on how to manage the income they receive in an efficient and transparent manner. Providing on-the-job training and coaching sessions for local experts and managers helps to improve taxpayer registration and tax collection procedures.
- Strengthening social accountability: The programme promotes the reviewing and processing of easily comprehensible information provided by the government on accountability. Civil society partners are given support and assistance in using accessible data to compile reports and analyses.

Beneficiaries:

Staff of specialised central Government organisations; President's Office - Regional Administration and Local Government, Association of Local Authorities of Tanzania, selected Members of Parliament, Institute of Tax Administration and Civil Society Organisations.

Project full name:

Good financial governance – accountability and mobilisation of state revenue

Domain:

Governance

Phase I:

2015 - 2020

Implementing partner:

German International Cooperation (GIZ)

SDC contribution:

CHF 4'680'000

Total phase budget:

CHF 17'376'730

Co-funders:

- German Ministry for Cooperation (BMZ)
- European Union Delegation (EU)

For more information:

Jacquiline G. Ngoma,
Programme Officer,
Governance Domain
Tel: +255 22 266 62 20
Email:
jacquiline-gatera.ngoma@eda.admin.ch

Web:

<https://www.eda.admin.ch/daressalaam>

<https://www.giz.de>

Photo credit: GIZ

Project overview

In recent years, Tanzania's public finance system has undergone generally positive, albeit gradual development. Analyses show the pace of reform to be slow. The ambitious objectives that have been drawn up are at variance with the capacity of principal stakeholders to actually carry out public finance reforms.

A systemic change in the way public finances are structured is the declared goal of the Tanzanian Government. In order to achieve this, the state needs to provide greater accountability, but citizens too must demand it. Both of these actions need to be carried out more frequently and to a higher degree of quality. Weaknesses in external and internal financial control, a failure to implement audit recommendations, a tax base which is too narrow and a lack of mechanisms allowing taxpayers and decision-makers to enter into dialogue with one another are the main reasons for the absence of accountability in the public finance system.

This programme builds on the previous experience and successes of two completed programmes implemented by the German International Cooperation (GIZ), namely Support to the National Audit Office of Tanzania (2012-2015) and Support for Decentralised Structures (2008-2014).

Overall goal

The Good Financial Governance (GFG) project aims at strengthening the public finance system in accordance with the principles of good financial governance, specifically transparency, efficiency and accountability.

Expected outcomes

1. The National Audit Office (NAO) increasingly performs its role as a supreme audit institution efficiently;
2. Conditions for an effective internal audit function are in place;

3. Capacity for efficient and transparent management of local government revenue sources is increased;
4. Conditions for a dialogue between the public administration and citizens on transparency and accountability of public funds at local level are improved.

Approach

The programme supports the Tanzanian Government's programme of public finance reform by enhancing the level of accountability provided by the government in the area of public finances and by increasing the demand among the country's citizens for accountability. The focus is on four fields of activity:

- Strengthening external financial control: The programme strengthens in particular the individual and institutional capacity of the National Audit Office of Tanzania to plan and carry out extended audits of accounts as well as audits in specialised fields, including the drafting of audit recommendations.
- Strengthening the internal audit system: Thanks to process-based advice and dialogue with public administrations, a shared understanding of the role of the internal auditor in ministries, subordinate authorities and local authorities can be developed. Substantial support is provided to the Internal Auditor General's Division at the Ministry of Finance in the form of organisational and sectoral advice.
- Supporting local public revenue: To increase local revenue levels, ten selected local authorities are given advice on how to manage the income they receive in an efficient and transparent manner. Providing on-the-job training and coaching sessions for local experts and managers helps to improve taxpayer registration and tax collection procedures.
- Strengthening social accountability: The programme promotes the reviewing and processing of easily comprehensible information provided by the government on accountability. Civil society partners are given support and assistance in using accessible data to compile reports and analyses.

Beneficiaries:

Staff of specialised central Government organisations; President's Office - Regional Administration and Local Government, Association of Local Authorities of Tanzania, selected Members of Parliament, Institute of Tax Administration and Civil Society Organisations.

Project full name:

Good financial governance – accountability and mobilisation of state revenue

Domain:

Governance

Phase I:

2015 - 2020

Implementing partner:

German International Cooperation (GIZ)

SDC contribution:

CHF 4'680'000

Total phase budget:

CHF 17'376'730

Co-funders:

- German Ministry for Cooperation (BMZ)
- European Union Delegation (EU)

For more information:

Jacquiline G. Ngoma,
Programme Officer,
Governance Domain
Tel: +255 22 266 62 20
Email:
jacquiline-gatera.ngoma@eda.admin.ch

Web:

<https://www.eda.admin.ch/daressalaam>

<https://www.giz.de>

Photo credit: GIZ

Project overview

In recent years, Tanzania's public finance system has undergone generally positive, albeit gradual development. Analyses show the pace of reform to be slow. The ambitious objectives that have been drawn up are at variance with the capacity of principal stakeholders to actually carry out public finance reforms.

A systemic change in the way public finances are structured is the declared goal of the Tanzanian Government. In order to achieve this, the state needs to provide greater accountability, but citizens too must demand it. Both of these actions need to be carried out more frequently and to a higher degree of quality. Weaknesses in external and internal financial control, a failure to implement audit recommendations, a tax base which is too narrow and a lack of mechanisms allowing taxpayers and decision-makers to enter into dialogue with one another are the main reasons for the absence of accountability in the public finance system.

This programme builds on the previous experience and successes of two completed programmes implemented by the German International Cooperation (GIZ), namely Support to the National Audit Office of Tanzania (2012-2015) and Support for Decentralised Structures (2008-2014).

Overall goal

The Good Financial Governance (GFG) project aims at strengthening the public finance system in accordance with the principles of good financial governance, specifically transparency, efficiency and accountability.

Expected outcomes

1. The National Audit Office (NAO) increasingly performs its role as a supreme audit institution efficiently;
2. Conditions for an effective internal audit function are in place;

3. Capacity for efficient and transparent management of local government revenue sources is increased;
4. Conditions for a dialogue between the public administration and citizens on transparency and accountability of public funds at local level are improved.

Approach

The programme supports the Tanzanian Government's programme of public finance reform by enhancing the level of accountability provided by the government in the area of public finances and by increasing the demand among the country's citizens for accountability. The focus is on four fields of activity:

- Strengthening external financial control: The programme strengthens in particular the individual and institutional capacity of the National Audit Office of Tanzania to plan and carry out extended audits of accounts as well as audits in specialised fields, including the drafting of audit recommendations.
- Strengthening the internal audit system: Thanks to process-based advice and dialogue with public administrations, a shared understanding of the role of the internal auditor in ministries, subordinate authorities and local authorities can be developed. Substantial support is provided to the Internal Auditor General's Division at the Ministry of Finance in the form of organisational and sectoral advice.
- Supporting local public revenue: To increase local revenue levels, ten selected local authorities are given advice on how to manage the income they receive in an efficient and transparent manner. Providing on-the-job training and coaching sessions for local experts and managers helps to improve taxpayer registration and tax collection procedures.
- Strengthening social accountability: The programme promotes the reviewing and processing of easily comprehensible information provided by the government on accountability. Civil society partners are given support and assistance in using accessible data to compile reports and analyses.

Beneficiaries:

Staff of specialised central Government organisations; President's Office - Regional Administration and Local Government, Association of Local Authorities of Tanzania, selected Members of Parliament, Institute of Tax Administration and Civil Society Organisations.

Project full name:

Good financial governance – accountability and mobilisation of state revenue

Domain:

Governance

Phase I:

2015 - 2020

Implementing partner:

German International Cooperation (GIZ)

SDC contribution:

CHF 4'680'000

Total phase budget:

CHF 17'376'730

Co-funders:

- German Ministry for Cooperation (BMZ)
- European Union Delegation (EU)

For more information:

Jacquiline G. Ngoma,
Programme Officer,
Governance Domain
Tel: +255 22 266 62 20
Email:
jacquiline-gatera.ngoma@eda.admin.ch

Web:

<https://www.eda.admin.ch/daressalaam>

<https://www.giz.de>

Photo credit: GIZ

Project overview

In recent years, Tanzania's public finance system has undergone generally positive, albeit gradual development. Analyses show the pace of reform to be slow. The ambitious objectives that have been drawn up are at variance with the capacity of principal stakeholders to actually carry out public finance reforms.

A systemic change in the way public finances are structured is the declared goal of the Tanzanian Government. In order to achieve this, the state needs to provide greater accountability, but citizens too must demand it. Both of these actions need to be carried out more frequently and to a higher degree of quality. Weaknesses in external and internal financial control, a failure to implement audit recommendations, a tax base which is too narrow and a lack of mechanisms allowing taxpayers and decision-makers to enter into dialogue with one another are the main reasons for the absence of accountability in the public finance system.

This programme builds on the previous experience and successes of two completed programmes implemented by the German International Cooperation (GIZ), namely Support to the National Audit Office of Tanzania (2012-2015) and Support for Decentralised Structures (2008-2014).

Overall goal

The Good Financial Governance (GFG) project aims at strengthening the public finance system in accordance with the principles of good financial governance, specifically transparency, efficiency and accountability.

Expected outcomes

1. The National Audit Office (NAO) increasingly performs its role as a supreme audit institution efficiently;
2. Conditions for an effective internal audit function are in place;

3. Capacity for efficient and transparent management of local government revenue sources is increased;
4. Conditions for a dialogue between the public administration and citizens on transparency and accountability of public funds at local level are improved.

Approach

The programme supports the Tanzanian Government's programme of public finance reform by enhancing the level of accountability provided by the government in the area of public finances and by increasing the demand among the country's citizens for accountability. The focus is on four fields of activity:

- Strengthening external financial control: The programme strengthens in particular the individual and institutional capacity of the National Audit Office of Tanzania to plan and carry out extended audits of accounts as well as audits in specialised fields, including the drafting of audit recommendations.
- Strengthening the internal audit system: Thanks to process-based advice and dialogue with public administrations, a shared understanding of the role of the internal auditor in ministries, subordinate authorities and local authorities can be developed. Substantial support is provided to the Internal Auditor General's Division at the Ministry of Finance in the form of organisational and sectoral advice.
- Supporting local public revenue: To increase local revenue levels, ten selected local authorities are given advice on how to manage the income they receive in an efficient and transparent manner. Providing on-the-job training and coaching sessions for local experts and managers helps to improve taxpayer registration and tax collection procedures.
- Strengthening social accountability: The programme promotes the reviewing and processing of easily comprehensible information provided by the government on accountability. Civil society partners are given support and assistance in using accessible data to compile reports and analyses.

Beneficiaries:

Staff of specialised central Government organisations; President's Office - Regional Administration and Local Government, Association of Local Authorities of Tanzania, selected Members of Parliament, Institute of Tax Administration and Civil Society Organisations.

Project full name:

Good financial governance – accountability and mobilisation of state revenue

Domain:

Governance

Phase I:

2015 - 2020

Implementing partner:

German International Cooperation (GIZ)

SDC contribution:

CHF 4'680'000

Total phase budget:

CHF 17'376'730

Co-funders:

- German Ministry for Cooperation (BMZ)
- European Union Delegation (EU)

For more information:

Jacquiline G. Ngoma,
Programme Officer,
Governance Domain
Tel: +255 22 266 62 20
Email:
jacquiline-gatera.ngoma@eda.admin.ch

Web:

<https://www.eda.admin.ch/daressalaam>

<https://www.giz.de>

Photo credit: GIZ

Project overview

In recent years, Tanzania's public finance system has undergone generally positive, albeit gradual development. Analyses show the pace of reform to be slow. The ambitious objectives that have been drawn up are at variance with the capacity of principal stakeholders to actually carry out public finance reforms.

A systemic change in the way public finances are structured is the declared goal of the Tanzanian Government. In order to achieve this, the state needs to provide greater accountability, but citizens too must demand it. Both of these actions need to be carried out more frequently and to a higher degree of quality. Weaknesses in external and internal financial control, a failure to implement audit recommendations, a tax base which is too narrow and a lack of mechanisms allowing taxpayers and decision-makers to enter into dialogue with one another are the main reasons for the absence of accountability in the public finance system.

This programme builds on the previous experience and successes of two completed programmes implemented by the German International Cooperation (GIZ), namely Support to the National Audit Office of Tanzania (2012-2015) and Support for Decentralised Structures (2008-2014).

Overall goal

The Good Financial Governance (GFG) project aims at strengthening the public finance system in accordance with the principles of good financial governance, specifically transparency, efficiency and accountability.

Expected outcomes

1. The National Audit Office (NAO) increasingly performs its role as a supreme audit institution efficiently;
2. Conditions for an effective internal audit function are in place;

3. Capacity for efficient and transparent management of local government revenue sources is increased;
4. Conditions for a dialogue between the public administration and citizens on transparency and accountability of public funds at local level are improved.

Approach

The programme supports the Tanzanian Government's programme of public finance reform by enhancing the level of accountability provided by the government in the area of public finances and by increasing the demand among the country's citizens for accountability. The focus is on four fields of activity:

- Strengthening external financial control: The programme strengthens in particular the individual and institutional capacity of the National Audit Office of Tanzania to plan and carry out extended audits of accounts as well as audits in specialised fields, including the drafting of audit recommendations.
- Strengthening the internal audit system: Thanks to process-based advice and dialogue with public administrations, a shared understanding of the role of the internal auditor in ministries, subordinate authorities and local authorities can be developed. Substantial support is provided to the Internal Auditor General's Division at the Ministry of Finance in the form of organisational and sectoral advice.
- Supporting local public revenue: To increase local revenue levels, ten selected local authorities are given advice on how to manage the income they receive in an efficient and transparent manner. Providing on-the-job training and coaching sessions for local experts and managers helps to improve taxpayer registration and tax collection procedures.
- Strengthening social accountability: The programme promotes the reviewing and processing of easily comprehensible information provided by the government on accountability. Civil society partners are given support and assistance in using accessible data to compile reports and analyses.

Beneficiaries:

Staff of specialised central Government organisations; President's Office - Regional Administration and Local Government, Association of Local Authorities of Tanzania, selected Members of Parliament, Institute of Tax Administration and Civil Society Organisations.

Project full name:

Good financial governance – accountability and mobilisation of state revenue

Domain:

Governance

Phase I:

2015 - 2020

Implementing partner:

German International Cooperation (GIZ)

SDC contribution:

CHF 4'680'000

Total phase budget:

CHF 17'376'730

Co-funders:

- German Ministry for Cooperation (BMZ)
- European Union Delegation (EU)

For more information:

Jacquiline G. Ngoma,
Programme Officer,
Governance Domain
Tel: +255 22 266 62 20
Email:
jacquiline-gatera.ngoma@eda.admin.ch

Web:

<https://www.eda.admin.ch/daressalaam>

<https://www.giz.de>

Photo credit: GIZ

Project overview

In recent years, Tanzania's public finance system has undergone generally positive, albeit gradual development. Analyses show the pace of reform to be slow. The ambitious objectives that have been drawn up are at variance with the capacity of principal stakeholders to actually carry out public finance reforms.

A systemic change in the way public finances are structured is the declared goal of the Tanzanian Government. In order to achieve this, the state needs to provide greater accountability, but citizens too must demand it. Both of these actions need to be carried out more frequently and to a higher degree of quality. Weaknesses in external and internal financial control, a failure to implement audit recommendations, a tax base which is too narrow and a lack of mechanisms allowing taxpayers and decision-makers to enter into dialogue with one another are the main reasons for the absence of accountability in the public finance system.

This programme builds on the previous experience and successes of two completed programmes implemented by the German International Cooperation (GIZ), namely Support to the National Audit Office of Tanzania (2012-2015) and Support for Decentralised Structures (2008-2014).

Overall goal

The Good Financial Governance (GFG) project aims at strengthening the public finance system in accordance with the principles of good financial governance, specifically transparency, efficiency and accountability.

Expected outcomes

1. The National Audit Office (NAO) increasingly performs its role as a supreme audit institution efficiently;
2. Conditions for an effective internal audit function are in place;

3. Capacity for efficient and transparent management of local government revenue sources is increased;
4. Conditions for a dialogue between the public administration and citizens on transparency and accountability of public funds at local level are improved.

Approach

The programme supports the Tanzanian Government's programme of public finance reform by enhancing the level of accountability provided by the government in the area of public finances and by increasing the demand among the country's citizens for accountability. The focus is on four fields of activity:

- Strengthening external financial control: The programme strengthens in particular the individual and institutional capacity of the National Audit Office of Tanzania to plan and carry out extended audits of accounts as well as audits in specialised fields, including the drafting of audit recommendations.
- Strengthening the internal audit system: Thanks to process-based advice and dialogue with public administrations, a shared understanding of the role of the internal auditor in ministries, subordinate authorities and local authorities can be developed. Substantial support is provided to the Internal Auditor General's Division at the Ministry of Finance in the form of organisational and sectoral advice.
- Supporting local public revenue: To increase local revenue levels, ten selected local authorities are given advice on how to manage the income they receive in an efficient and transparent manner. Providing on-the-job training and coaching sessions for local experts and managers helps to improve taxpayer registration and tax collection procedures.
- Strengthening social accountability: The programme promotes the reviewing and processing of easily comprehensible information provided by the government on accountability. Civil society partners are given support and assistance in using accessible data to compile reports and analyses.

Beneficiaries:

Staff of specialised central Government organisations; President's Office - Regional Administration and Local Government, Association of Local Authorities of Tanzania, selected Members of Parliament, Institute of Tax Administration and Civil Society Organisations.

Project full name:

Good financial governance – accountability and mobilisation of state revenue

Domain:

Governance

Phase I:

2015 - 2020

Implementing partner:

German International Cooperation (GIZ)

SDC contribution:

CHF 4'680'000

Total phase budget:

CHF 17'376'730

Co-funders:

- German Ministry for Cooperation (BMZ)
- European Union Delegation (EU)

For more information:

Jacquiline G. Ngoma,
Programme Officer,
Governance Domain
Tel: +255 22 266 62 20
Email:
jacquiline-gatera.ngoma@eda.admin.ch

Web:

<https://www.eda.admin.ch/daressalaam>

<https://www.giz.de>

Photo credit: GIZ

Project overview

In recent years, Tanzania's public finance system has undergone generally positive, albeit gradual development. Analyses show the pace of reform to be slow. The ambitious objectives that have been drawn up are at variance with the capacity of principal stakeholders to actually carry out public finance reforms.

A systemic change in the way public finances are structured is the declared goal of the Tanzanian Government. In order to achieve this, the state needs to provide greater accountability, but citizens too must demand it. Both of these actions need to be carried out more frequently and to a higher degree of quality. Weaknesses in external and internal financial control, a failure to implement audit recommendations, a tax base which is too narrow and a lack of mechanisms allowing taxpayers and decision-makers to enter into dialogue with one another are the main reasons for the absence of accountability in the public finance system.

This programme builds on the previous experience and successes of two completed programmes implemented by the German International Cooperation (GIZ), namely Support to the National Audit Office of Tanzania (2012-2015) and Support for Decentralised Structures (2008-2014).

Overall goal

The Good Financial Governance (GFG) project aims at strengthening the public finance system in accordance with the principles of good financial governance, specifically transparency, efficiency and accountability.

Expected outcomes

1. The National Audit Office (NAO) increasingly performs its role as a supreme audit institution efficiently;
2. Conditions for an effective internal audit function are in place;

3. Capacity for efficient and transparent management of local government revenue sources is increased;
4. Conditions for a dialogue between the public administration and citizens on transparency and accountability of public funds at local level are improved.

Approach

The programme supports the Tanzanian Government's programme of public finance reform by enhancing the level of accountability provided by the government in the area of public finances and by increasing the demand among the country's citizens for accountability. The focus is on four fields of activity:

- Strengthening external financial control: The programme strengthens in particular the individual and institutional capacity of the National Audit Office of Tanzania to plan and carry out extended audits of accounts as well as audits in specialised fields, including the drafting of audit recommendations.
- Strengthening the internal audit system: Thanks to process-based advice and dialogue with public administrations, a shared understanding of the role of the internal auditor in ministries, subordinate authorities and local authorities can be developed. Substantial support is provided to the Internal Auditor General's Division at the Ministry of Finance in the form of organisational and sectoral advice.
- Supporting local public revenue: To increase local revenue levels, ten selected local authorities are given advice on how to manage the income they receive in an efficient and transparent manner. Providing on-the-job training and coaching sessions for local experts and managers helps to improve taxpayer registration and tax collection procedures.
- Strengthening social accountability: The programme promotes the reviewing and processing of easily comprehensible information provided by the government on accountability. Civil society partners are given support and assistance in using accessible data to compile reports and analyses.

Beneficiaries:

Staff of specialised central Government organisations; President's Office - Regional Administration and Local Government, Association of Local Authorities of Tanzania, selected Members of Parliament, Institute of Tax Administration and Civil Society Organisations.

Project full name:

Good financial governance – accountability and mobilisation of state revenue

Domain:

Governance

Phase I:

2015 - 2020

Implementing partner:

German International Cooperation (GIZ)

SDC contribution:

CHF 4'680'000

Total phase budget:

CHF 17'376'730

Co-funders:

- German Ministry for Cooperation (BMZ)
- European Union Delegation (EU)

For more information:

Jacquiline G. Ngoma,
Programme Officer,
Governance Domain
Tel: +255 22 266 62 20
Email:
jacquiline-gatera.ngoma@eda.admin.ch

Web:

<https://www.eda.admin.ch/daressalaam>

<https://www.giz.de>

Photo credit: GIZ

Project overview

In recent years, Tanzania's public finance system has undergone generally positive, albeit gradual development. Analyses show the pace of reform to be slow. The ambitious objectives that have been drawn up are at variance with the capacity of principal stakeholders to actually carry out public finance reforms.

A systemic change in the way public finances are structured is the declared goal of the Tanzanian Government. In order to achieve this, the state needs to provide greater accountability, but citizens too must demand it. Both of these actions need to be carried out more frequently and to a higher degree of quality. Weaknesses in external and internal financial control, a failure to implement audit recommendations, a tax base which is too narrow and a lack of mechanisms allowing taxpayers and decision-makers to enter into dialogue with one another are the main reasons for the absence of accountability in the public finance system.

This programme builds on the previous experience and successes of two completed programmes implemented by the German International Cooperation (GIZ), namely Support to the National Audit Office of Tanzania (2012-2015) and Support for Decentralised Structures (2008-2014).

Overall goal

The Good Financial Governance (GFG) project aims at strengthening the public finance system in accordance with the principles of good financial governance, specifically transparency, efficiency and accountability.

Expected outcomes

1. The National Audit Office (NAO) increasingly performs its role as a supreme audit institution efficiently;
2. Conditions for an effective internal audit function are in place;

3. Capacity for efficient and transparent management of local government revenue sources is increased;
4. Conditions for a dialogue between the public administration and citizens on transparency and accountability of public funds at local level are improved.

Approach

The programme supports the Tanzanian Government's programme of public finance reform by enhancing the level of accountability provided by the government in the area of public finances and by increasing the demand among the country's citizens for accountability. The focus is on four fields of activity:

- Strengthening external financial control: The programme strengthens in particular the individual and institutional capacity of the National Audit Office of Tanzania to plan and carry out extended audits of accounts as well as audits in specialised fields, including the drafting of audit recommendations.
- Strengthening the internal audit system: Thanks to process-based advice and dialogue with public administrations, a shared understanding of the role of the internal auditor in ministries, subordinate authorities and local authorities can be developed. Substantial support is provided to the Internal Auditor General's Division at the Ministry of Finance in the form of organisational and sectoral advice.
- Supporting local public revenue: To increase local revenue levels, ten selected local authorities are given advice on how to manage the income they receive in an efficient and transparent manner. Providing on-the-job training and coaching sessions for local experts and managers helps to improve taxpayer registration and tax collection procedures.
- Strengthening social accountability: The programme promotes the reviewing and processing of easily comprehensible information provided by the government on accountability. Civil society partners are given support and assistance in using accessible data to compile reports and analyses.

Beneficiaries:

Staff of specialised central Government organisations; President's Office - Regional Administration and Local Government, Association of Local Authorities of Tanzania, selected Members of Parliament, Institute of Tax Administration and Civil Society Organisations.